Employer/Party II represented by Adv. A. Naik.

Panaji, Dated: 16-4-1984

AWARD

This is a reference made to this Tribunal by the Govt. of Goa, Daman & Diu, by its Order No. 28/5/82-ILD dated 14th January 1983. The schedule annexed to the Order of reference reads as follows:

"Whether the action of the Management of M/s. The Goa State Co-operative Bank Limited, Panaji-Goa, in terminating the services of Shri Anant R. Pal, Peon at the Bicholim Branch of the said Bank, with effect from 28-2-1980 is legal and justified?"

If not, to what relief the workman is entitled to?"

2. The workman, in his statement of claim, has stated that he was employed in the services of the bank as Peon w.e.f. 21-11-1978 and has been in continuous service since 28-2-1980; he was paid monthly wages by the Agent of the Bicholim Branch, who used to take his signature on a voucher and credit his salary in his bank account No. 603 in the same bank; he has put in uninterrupted service with the employer from 21-11-1980 till 28-2-1980, date on which the Agent of the Bicholim Branch issued him a letter terminating his services; the workman raised a dispute with the employer and demanded his reinstatement w.e.f. 21-3-1980, but the bank did not reply to the said letter; then he sought the intervention of the Labour Commissioner; conciliation proceedings were taken up in the Labour Commissioner's office, which ended in failure, due to non-co-operative and adamant attitude of the employer's representative; hence, this reference. It is submitted that the bank has terminated the workman's services without any reasonable cause and for no misconduct committed by the workman. Hence, the termination is illegal and unjustified. Besides, no legal dues including retrenchment compensation was paid to the workman, which payment is compulsory under Section 25 of the I.D.A., 1947 in short the Act. He was appointed in the services of the Bank by the General Manager, but the letter of termination was issued by the Agent of the Bicholim Branch, who is not authorised to issue such letter. The action of the said Agent is, therefore, without justification and, hence, null and void. It is prayed that the workman be reinstated with full back wages and continuity of service and given all benefits as per the contract of service between the employer and the workman. He should also be paid adequate compensation for the loss of his services, which disrupted his normal family life and caused him mental and physical torture.

3. The employer, in its written statement, raised a preliminary objection regarding the lack of jurisdiction of this Tribunal to entertain and try this case in view of Section 91 of Maharashtra Co-operative Society's Act.

On merits, it is contended that the workman was employed on daily wages and on purely temporary basis. He was never paid monthly salary, but only daily wages; he was given breaks in service and so he cannot claim uninterrupted service, nor is he entitled to any benefits under the Act. The Bank did not receive the letter falsely alleged to have been sent by the workman and, therefore, the question of replying to such letter does not arise. The services of the workman were terminated as they were no more required. The workman was appointed by the Agent and not by the General Manager and, as such, he has got full powers to terminate his services.

4. In his rejoinder, the workman, after pointing out that the verification of the written statement by the Chairman of the Bank is not proper, submits that, after the termination of the services of the workman, the employer recruited several new persons to the post of peon without offering employment to the workman.

5. Besides the issues involved in the Order of reference, the following preliminary issue was framed:

"Whether the Employer proves that this Court has no jurisdiction to entertain and try this application, in view of S. 91 of the Maharashtra Co-operative Society's Act?"

6. Both the parties rep. were heard on this preliminary issue and the same was disposed off by my order dated 22-9-1983 holding that the Tribunal had jurisdiction to entertain this reference.

On the merit, the employer led the evidence of the Manager of the Bicholim Branch and the workman's rep. examined the workman. Arguments of both the Ld. Rep. of the parties were heard and now the case is before me for passing Order.

7. It is an admitted fact that the services of the workman as peon of the Bank at Bicholim were terminated by the employer Agent at Bicholim on 28-2-1980. So far the date of his appointment is concerned, the workman has stated that he joined the services on 21-11-1978, while the employer has stated that he joined about one month later. The employer, in his cross examination, has admitted the possibility of the workman having joined the services on 21-11-1978. At any rate, even assuming for the sake of arguments that the workman joined on 21-7-1978, it is obvious that, at the time of termination of his services, he was putting in more than one year's service, and this service was continuous, as per the statement of the workman. The employer, although denying this contention, did not bring documentary evidence in his possession that there were breaks in the service of the workman, as contended by him. The workman has also stated that he was a monthly rated worker and that his salary was paid every month alongwith other employees of the bank. There was no suggestion in cross-examination to the contrary. Otherwise, this does not make any difference for the purpose of Section 25F of the Act if the workman is daily rated or monthly paid. What is required is that he should put in not less than one year's continuous service in order that Section 25F be attracted.

8. Section 25B of the Act defines continuity of service as including even interruption due to sickness and provides in sub-section 2(a)(ii) that it will be deemed that the workman has worked continuously for a period of one year if he has worked for 240 days with the employer within the period of one year.

9. The conditions laid down in Section 25F had to be complied with by the employer while terminating the services of the workman, which the employer admittedly had failed to do. Such conditions are of mandatory nature and failure to comply with them at the time of termination makes the order of termination invalid and inoperative. The Supreme Court in Hospital Mazdoor Sabha case, reported in 1960 I LLJ page 251, has laid down the principle that the requirements of Section 25F are of mandatory nature and failure to comply with them makes the order of retrenchment invalid and inoperative in law.

10. In the instant case, admittedly the workman was not given notice of termination one month in advance, nor paid in lieu of such notice, as required by clause (a) of Section 25F of the Act; admittedly, he was not paid compensation, as required by clause (b) of the said provision. The above 2 clauses are conditions precedent to the validity of retrenchment and failure to comply with them makes the retrenchment order invalid and inoperative.

11. It cannot be disputed that, as per the definition of retrenchment given in Section 2(00) of the Act, the termination of the services of the workman in our case amounts to retrenchment and, therefore, attracts the provision of Section 25F of the Act.

12. If the retrenchment order is invalid and inoperative in law, it is to be deemed that the workman has continued to be in service of the employer and, consequently, he is entitled to full back wages with continuity of services till his reinstatement.

13. In view of what has been stated above, I answer to the reference by passing the following order:

ORDER

The termination of the services of the workman is illegal and, therefore, he is entitled to be reinstated with continuity of services and full back wages. Costs of Rs. 300/- to be paid to the workman by the employer bank.
